Room 4: Sexualities Room 5: Remembering – Thinking – Learning

● In the last section of Room 4 'Sexualities' you'll find the theme 'Family and Relationships' on display. Check out the station 'Was verbinden wir mit Familie' or What Connects us to Family. Using the string, make your own connections. Use the table below for English terms.

Geborgenheit = tenderness	Scham = shame	Freude = happiness
Halt = support	Frust = frustration	Erwartungen = expectations
Druck = pressure	Macht = power	Liebe = love
Streit = strife (fighting)	Erinnerung = memories	Einsamkeit = Ioneliness
Verständnis = understanding	Eifersucht = jealousy	Vertrauen = trust
Nähe = intimacy (closeness)	Enttäuschung = disappointment

• Close your eyes and see how many of the terms that describe family you can remember (in English, or course!). Which words stand out the most for you? Which words describe the ideal family? Is the ideal family realistic? Which words are a must have and which ones are a must not have?

> Discuss the following idea: 'Without feelings there can be no memories.'

• On the opposite wall from the last exercise you will find a collage of photos plus a mirror in the middle. Look closely and you will see that the photos are family snapshots. As you can see, families come in all shapes and sizes. Do any of the families surprise you? Has your definition of family changed after examining the wall of photos? Describe your own family photo. This can be either your current family or the family you want to one day have.

• Let's turn around and go back to the middle of the room. Here you will find some fun stations on 2 long tables. Find the two media stations 'Wie gut kennst du dich aus?' (How well informed are you?) and 'Sexstunde' (Lessons in Sexuality).

a) At the station 'How Well Informed Are You?' which facts and laws do you find especially interesting? Are they different from the ones in your home country?

b) Which terms from 'Lessons in Sexuality' were new to you?

S Now let's head into Room 5 'Memory, Thought, and Learning'. Find the station 'Mind Ball' at the end of the long table on the left. This is a game where two of you will compete to see how far you can move a ball with just the power of your minds!

a) Who won and how did they do it? Is it better to be calm and absolutely still, or does friendly encouragement help? What didn't work?

• Let's see how easily tricked you are! Everyone answer the following math question individually. 1 bat and 1 ball cost altogether £1.10 (or $1.10). The bat costs 1 pound (or 1 dollar) more than the ball. What does the ball cost?

Answer:

Work together as a group to find the answer! Psst... the answer is also hidden somewhere on this worksheet!

Opinion Check-In

Friends and family members can be helpful when it comes to thinking, learning and remembering. What do you think? Why do relationships help us to learn?
